CONCERT FEEDBACK FOR THE WEBSITE: Ian Maurer would be delighted to receive any comments from the audience about the concert, so that he can update the website. The comments will be posted anonymously. Please note his correct email: ian@ianmaurer.net

USE OF CONCERT RECORDINGS: A gentle reminder now that recordings of our concerts are not for public viewing until they've been vetted and licensing has been approved. The usual public performance rights do not extend to making and distributing recordings of a performance. Thanks!

THIS WEEK: Today is the 275th anniversary of the death of Johann Sebastian Bach. We're singing two movements of his glorious Mass in B minor in the September concert (thank you, Brett), and the Osanna is a suitably celebratory one to remind us how fortunate we are that his music was rediscovered in the nineteenth century. (The only drawback for me is that this will be my earworm for the next few days ...!)
